

“It is the men and women of America who will fill that need. One mentor, one person, can change a life forever.”

*President George W. Bush
State of the Union Address
January 28, 2003*

CALL TO DUTY
BOOTS ON THE GROUND

What if you could...

- Boost your performance and productivity?
- Build the skills to lead more effectively?
- Increase your career satisfaction?
- Gather advice and perspective from a role model outside of your chain of command?
- Access years of Army experience today, and leverage that knowledge tomorrow?

You can...
through Army Mentorship
Start TODAY!

ARMY STRONG.

Kick your Army career into high gear today at
www.mentorship.army.mil

Work with an Army Mentor...

and build upon your best.

Kick your Army career into high gear
through the power of mentorship.

Advance Faster. Rise Higher. Accomplish More.

Fine-tune your skills,
seek out new knowledge
and refine your direction.

The Army provides formal education and training through institutions and on-the-ground experience. Mentorship provides informal education through interaction with a seasoned Army professional. Mentorship is an extremely powerful tool that can help improve your competence, leadership skills, self-awareness and morale.

Although you are responsible for your professional and personal development, a mentor can help you navigate your career path. Working with a mentor whose experience is compatible with your goals offers significant benefits:

- Learn from a Seasoned Professional: Army mentors come from various career fields and backgrounds. A mentor's perspective can help you avoid mistakes and make the most of the challenges you face.
- Seek Advice in Complete Confidence: Because your Army mentor is not in your chain of command, you can ask questions and seek advice from someone who will not ask anything of you, except commitment to the mentoring relationship.

- Maximize Your Potential: With the perspective of experience, your mentor can help point out opportunities you may not have considered.
- Proceed with Confidence: Participants in the Army Mentorship Program are more confident in making decisions because they know they can seek advice from their mentors.
- Enjoy Career Satisfaction: Professionals who work with mentors report greater career satisfaction, and their performance and productivity evaluations tend to be higher.

Go to www.mentorship.army.mil and sign up today. You will find a variety of resources to help you find a mentor: a database where you can search for a mentor based on demographic information such as rank, duty location or career field; as well as other references and tools that can help match you to the right mentor.

As a member of the Army Team, you want to be the best you can be. Sign up today to find the mentor who can help you go even further.

Find out more at
www.mentorship.army.mil

Start today at www.mentorship.army.mil

You can do it sooner, and with more confidence, through mentorship.

Who can take advantage of Army Mentorship?
You can.

- Active Duty Soldiers
- Reserve and National Guard
- Department of the Army Civilians
- Department of the Army Contractors
- Veterans
- Cadets
- Spouses, Retirees and Family Members